FYI. The tone of the response is curious. Thanks

Joe - Let me know your availability to meet today to discuss Bicky's comments on the background paper. I tried checking your calendar, but there's a glitch in Lotus that will not allow me to view your calendar alone.

Jessica - I'll include you on the meeting invite, I send out.

Heather:

Here's the response from USACG. I will follow up with them on the in-person briefing as requested and make sure to get the latest from NARF and NVT.

Lots of emphasis from USACE that the Cooperating Agency's make recommendations 'efficiently' on the draft SEIS. They note that it is neither "efficient nor appropriate" for NVT to cooperate in all of the working groups, which we can argue. You might need to walk me through the "predecisional information" sharing point made in the response letter they provided, but I'm supportive of the fact that NVT is seeking outside help for expertise, comments ect and can argue that to Mark too. I will continue to encourage meaningful cooperation with the village of Tyonek as the permitting process moves forward.

Regards,
Andrea
